

[Received October 04, 2001]

I have attached my account of what I experienced on Sept 11. I was coordinating a graduate executive education class from Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana - the class consisted of civilians working for the Naval Surface Weapons Center, Crane, Indiana. We were in Conference Room 5E490, being briefed by the Undersecretary of the Navy, the Honorable Susan Livingstone. Apparently either all of the conference room, or part of it, is still intact but the hallway we escaped through (E ring) collapsed minutes after we got out.

James Buher
Director, Administrative Services
School of Public and Environmental Affairs
Indiana University